Freestanding Acoustic Office Phone Pod

The Acoustix Phone Pod is a modern, Australian-made solution designed to enhance privacy and tranquillity in open-plan offices. With its sleek, contemporary design and customisable upholstery options, it seamlessly integrates into any office setting while adding a touch of style.

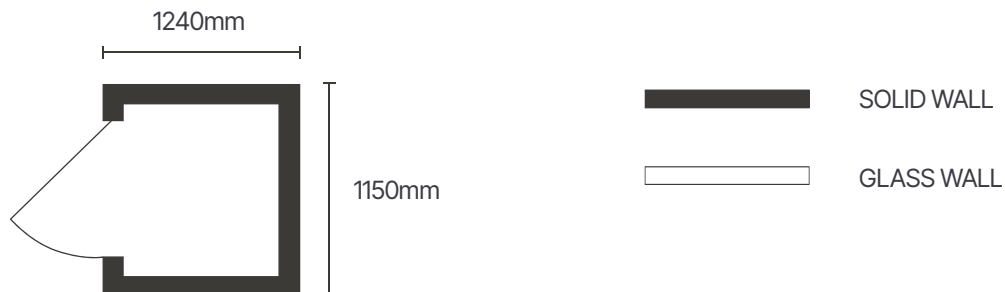

Gregory Acoustix Phone Pod Bringing Privacy Back to the Open Plan

The Acoustix Phone Pod is a stylish, Australian-made solution for privacy in open-plan offices, blending aesthetics with functionality. Its sleek design and customisable upholstery ensure it complements any workspace décor. Prioritising health and safety, it includes a fire-sprinkler-compatible roof and a dual-fan airflow system with a HEPA filter for clean air circulation.

With acoustic panels reducing noise by 22%, this phone pod creates a quieter, more focused environment ideal for virtual meetings and enhanced productivity. Integrated power options (GPO and USB A & C), functional whiteboard panels, LED lighting, and an easy-access floorless design make it both versatile and user-friendly.
